JFK's Talk Draws Praise From West

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
President Kennedy's speech to the United Nations drew warm praise today from America's friends and allies. First Communist reaction was hostile.

Returns were awaited from the nonaligned nations, who were cast in a vital role by Kennedy. He appealed to them to help save the United Nations by working for a strong secretary-general and to participate in disarmament.

The first significant neutralist comment came from Prince Norodom Sihanouk, chief of state of Cambodia. He visited Kennedy at his New York hotel and told news men that Cambodia adopts the same position toward disarmament as Kennedy in his speech. "With controls," he stressed. Moscow radio and the Soviet news agency Tass reported with comment that the President had addressed the General Assembly and "dwelt on the activity of the United Nations, the question of disarmament, the so-

Former Secy. of Defense Wilson, Dies

NORWOOD, La. (AP) — Charles Erwin Wilson, secretary of defense in the Eisenhower administration and former president of General Motors, died at his plantation home near here early today. He was 71.

Tom McKenzie, who manages the 4,000-acre plantation, said the corner list the time of death about 2:30 a. m., and attributed death to a coronary thrombosis. Wilson died peacefully, apparently without any pain, McKenzie said. A butler was unable to wake Wilson and summoned help.

Wilson arrived Sept. 18 at the plantation where he raised beef and dairy cattle. He planned to leave for New York about Oct. 1 on business.

Mrs. Wilson, McKenzie said, did not come to Louisiana and was still in Michigan.

Wilson's son, Edward, accompanied him here, but left for Michigan a few days ago.

Wilson complained of a slight case of indigestion Monday night, McKenzie said, and retired early. He rode around the plantation Monday in a station wagon.

The body was taken to Clinton, La. No funeral arrangements had been made.

DETROIT (AP) — Charles E. Wilson, former Secretary of Defense, died in his sleep at his plantation at Wilson, La., today. He was 71.

News of his death was received here by General Motors, the corporation he once headed.

Hospital Board Wants Supt. Jones to Quit

By JOHN R. STARR

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The State Hospital Board of Control said today it is trying to get Dr. Granville Jones to step down as superintendent because of his health.

State Sen. Olen Hendrix of Prescott, board chairman, said the board had discussed the matter with Jones, but no decision had been reached. The board wants to move Jones to a less demanding job, Hendrix said.

If Jones decides to step aside, Hendrix said, the board will try to persuade Dr. George W. Jackson, now director of institutions for the Kansas Department of Social Welfare, to return to Arkansas. Jackson was State Hospital superintendent here from 1946 to 1951.

"None of this should be taken as criticism of the job Dr. Jones has done for us," Hendrix said. "We are proud of him and the operation of the hospital has been wonderful. We'd like to keep him around."

Jones said he had been talking with the board, but reports of a possible change were premature. He indicated, however, he would be willing to go along with the board's wishes.

"If they (the board members) can work out something that will be satisfactory in rank and salary, I would be happy," Jones said.

Jones, 61, suffered a heart attack a year ago. He recovered sufficiently to handle his work, Hendrix said, but the board is concerned that more demanding duties connected with an extensive building program might be too much for him.

Jones declined to speculate on whether he would be up to added duties. "A person is not always capable of objective judgment concerning his own health," he said.

Hendrix said he had been in contact with Jackson and that

Compromise on Millwood Dam Money Likely

WASHINGTON (AP) — A compromise appropriation bill containing about $55 million for general flood control and navigation projects in Arkansas may get final approval from the Senate and House today.

The measure was approved by a Senate-House conference committee Monday and Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark., said the conferees took the generally higher Senate figures for all but one Arkansas project.

McClellan, a member of the Senate Appropriations Committee and the conference committee, said the single exception was for construction funds for Millwood Reservoir in southwestern Arkansas.

The committee - approved bill provides $3 million for Millwood construction, compared to $2.5 million voted by the House and $3.5 million approved by the Senate.

Construction — Arkansas River bank stabilization in Arkansas and Oklahoma, $15 million; Beaver Reservoir, $9.5 million; Bull Shoals power unit, $2.5 million; Dardanelle Lock and Dam, $9 million; De Gray Reservoir, $514,000; Greers Ferry, $12.5 million; Millwood Reservoir, $3 million; Red River levees and bank stabilization in Arkansas, Louisiana and Texas, $300,000.

Planning — Arkansas River navigation lock and dams, $1,225,000; Gilliam Reservoir, $120,000; Manatee Bayou upstream extension, $55,000; Ouachita River 9-foot channel in Arkansas and Louisiana, $250,000; Ozark Lock and Dam, $125,000.

McClellan said the bill contains $125,000 in maintenance funds to restore a 4 1/2-foot navigation channel on the White River below Augusta and about $30,000 to continue flood control study of Crooked Creek near Harrison, Ark., scene of a severe flood last May 7.

The bill also contains funds for the overall lower Mississippi River project, including these amounts:

St. Francis Basin, $4,635,000; Lower White, $550,000; Lower Arkansas, $530,000; and most of the $1790,000 for work on the Boeuf and Tensas Rivers in Arkansas and Louisiana, including $335,000 for rebuilding bridges in Chicot County which were washed out as a result of earlier channel improvement work.

McClellan said the bill also contains $25,000 to start a drainage survey for Drainage District No. 7 in Poinsett County.

Burglars Crack Safe at Childs Store Here

Burglars broke into the Childs Food Store here during the early morning hours, cracked the safe and escaped with an undisclosed amount of cash.

Chief of Police Jack Brown and Store Manager Don Simpson would not reveal the amount of money taken but it was believed to run as high as several thousand dollars.

The store manager had checked the store shortly before midnight. The burglary was discovered at 6 a. m. The thieves gained entrance through a back door. The safe door was pried open and the burglars took it with them.

Only $1-$5-$10-$20 bills and a few checks were taken. A fairly large amount of silver was left behind. So far as could be determined nothing else in the store was touched.

Officers believed it was done by professional safecrackers. The fact that the entire safe door was taken led them to think the thieves may have found a new way to crack this particular type of safe. The investigation continues. The store is open for business as usual today.

New Agency Set Up for Disarming

NEW YORK (AP) — President Kennedy today signed into law a new agency which he called the symbol of the importance the United States places in disarming mankind of weapons of war.

Kennedy, in his New York hotel suite, wrote his name on legislation to establish an arms control and disarmament agency.

The President advocated such an agency to provide the tools for a disarmament program which the United States could place before the world as a solution to the threat of future devastating wars.

Kennedy announced that William C. Foster, former foreign aid administrator and assistant secretary of defense, would head the agency.

Grand Jury Turns in Final Report

A Hempstead County Grand Jury, called to session in April to probe county affairs and activities of officials, filed its final report early last night with Judge Lyle Brown and was dismissed.

The jury made a series of recommendations but did not return any additional indictments. This same jury returned five indictments in June following six weeks of investigation.

Two indictments resulted in the trial of former County Judge U. G. Garrett for alleged misuse of county funds. A jury acquitted the ex-judge in both cases.

A secretary of the former judge, Mrs. Wanda Grimmer, was indicted by the jury on a count of embezzlement and, or grand larceny by bailment. A hung jury resulted and a mistrial was declared. Yesterday in Circuit Court the charge was dismissed on motion by the prosecution.

The jury also indicted L. E. Poteet, local oil and gas dealer, on two counts, forgery and obtaining money under false pretenses. The charges arose from county purchases of former Judge Garrett made from Mr. Poteet. The cases were never brought to trial and the court yesterday dismissed them on motion of the prosecuting attorney.

This all the indictments by the Grand Jury have been disposed of. However, a civil suit against the former judge, filed by B. W. Edwards in behalf of a Citizens' Committee is still pending. The suit calls for return of property or payment in money to the county from illegal sales of property by the ex-judge.

The Grand Jury made the following recommendations:

The jury recommended all monies due the county from individual for work performed by the county be paid directly to the county treasurer.

That competitive bids be taken on any major purchase of supplies and equipment and especially recommended that purchases of printing supplies in excess of $100 be handled exclusively by the County Court through competitive bidding.

Recommended that a better system of inventory be set up on all county office and other equipment and suggested that in regard to the county shop a permanent record be made of all county property; A locator file be maintained at all times; that individuals be designated as responsible for such property; that operators and trucks and equipment be inspected regularly and that sale of any equipment be done in accordance with the law and that inventories should specifically name each piece of equipment so it can easily be identified.

The group had received various reports of liquor traffic in the county but commended the Sheriff's Department for "doing the best possible job in keeping this traffic to a minimum" with the personnel available.

The jury recommended that a study be made by Legislators and a citizens committee of the duties, work load and needs of the officers and submit recommendations in the form of a bill to the Legislature and that the law be amended to require deputies employed

Chapter XXXII

The skit dealt with the riot that resulted in the shoot of two candidates for the office of sheriff of Mulligan County during a stump debate with Baxter T. Hazleton, the incumbent.

Wearing a hat that made him appear seven feet tall and a calf-skin vest with handy pockets for hooking the thumbs while discouraging, the Chief was playing the part of honest Sheriff Hazleton, the cattlemen's favorite, while Horsecollar, villainous as could be in a black walrus mustache that Beth Culppepper had pasted on upside by accident, was the candidate of the rustlers.

Rockabill was the third hopeful, backed by the townspeople's skullduggery in an amount sufficient to keep business booming, but not enough to give the town a bad name.

"Ah got just one plank," said Sheriff Hazleton. "And that is Ah intend to hang rustlers wherever Ah finds 'em!"

Cattlemen planted throughout the crowd, namely Mickey and his cohorts, cheered loudly and fired a few shots into the air.

On this high political plane the campaign continued. The skit called for the adherents of the three candidates to grow more abusive, to scuffle a little, until the whole meeting exploded into a shooting fracas.

Having glowered at Tarrant for some time, Glubman at last moved. He shoved over to Tarrant and said, "You Texans are all alike, ain't you?"

"Beat it, Glubman."

"You a member of the chamber?"

"No."

"There you are, I said you Texans are all alike."

"Just a minute, buster," said one of the men standing with Tarrant. "I happen to be a Texan, too."

"You look it."

Glubman's cigar shattered in a shower of sparks as a roundhouse right bounced off his jaw.

Another of Tarrant's friends whacked Glubman in the side of his beefy neck. "Hah!" said Glubman, and butted with his head.

Except in the immediate arena, no one paid any attention. The cattlemen, rustlers, and townspeople were having a brawl of their own. A Minnesota tourist who had been jostled by the Glubman-Texas feud retreated with his wife to safety and said, "When these folks put on a show, they go all out, don't they?"

Then the Minnesotan saw a man spitting broken dentures into his hand and wondered if they were carrying realism a mile far.

Miserably distended by gas, Councilman Heidegger had found it wise to keep moving. Happily, he ran into Dr. Lewt Nolan, watching the show with County Agent Frohisher and a group of 4-H lads. The fact that Nolan was a vet was of no moment. He'd studied medicine hadn't he?

"Hi, Doc. Fine show, eh? What do you do for vesicular exanthema?"

"When did you start raising hogs, Heidegger?"

"What gave you the idea I was?"

"Because you're talking about a disease confined almost exclusively to hogs."

"You calling me a hog, Nolan?" Nolan grinned. He didn't realize the depths of Heidegger's misery and frustration. "If you've got what you say you have, then you're sure a hog."

An awful gas pain hit Heidegger. He slugged Nolan, who reeled back into the arms of the County Agent, a muscular young man of hot temper.

"Hog, huh?" Heidegger tried another lick. Nolan ducked and the County Agent took one right on the nose.

Mayor Rainbolt came forward to intercede. He was interrupted by Mort Faulkner, a vociferous teetotaler, who for a long time had been demanding a street light on his corner so that he might catch the license numbers of the cars from which beer cans were thrown into his yard.

Every time his request had been denied, on motion of Councilman Heidegger, Faulkner grabbed the Mayor and said, "Just let 'em fight, Rainbolt." He had a point: Heidegger was getting the gas beat out of him.

Goodykoontz was fed up with Huckabee and his hard sell, but Huckabee wouldn't believe it until the grocer clapped him on the shoulder, turned him, took the seat of his pants in a large grip and hurled him five feet away, where he fell at the feet of Belinda Snoddy, who had come marching into the park.

For a few moments even Chief Wronker thought the action, which was exploding all over the park, was stemming from the skit. But when he saw a team of Texans manning a metal park bench like a battering ram against Glubman and his backers, he suspected that things were getting out of hand.

called Berlin crisis, and the question of colonialism."

The East German news agency ADN reported at length on the portions dealing with Germany and Berlin, accusing Kennedy of deliberately distorting the Soviet position. The agency said "he spoke of U.S. willingness to negotiate without submitting any concrete proposals."

Chinese Communist reaction appeared in the Ta Kung Pao of Hong Kong, a Red newspaper which follows Peiping's line. It accused Kennedy of mouthing "empty propaganda phrases."

A British Foreign Office statement said the plan "represents a realistic and practicable basis for negotiations."

British officials also privately praised Kennedy's statement that "we seek no perfect solution."

The British have long felt that U.S. policy tended to much toward absolute solutions that would not end the cold war.

Non-Communist Asians reacted warmly and with praise.

Newspapers everywhere outside of mainland China gave it top play.

The Japanese Foreign Ministry called the speech "a welcome reaffirmation of the United States position on world problems."

The Japanese were pleased with Kennedy's proposals for an end to nuclear tests and for general disarmament.

In Canada, Lester B. Pearson, Nobel Peace Prize winner and former U.N. Assembly president, said the speech put the Western world on a peace offensive.

This aspect drew mild criticism from a liberal newspaper in Denmark. The Politiken said the disarmament proposal "reminds one too much of tactics. A nuclear ban is a realistic and important thing. But proposing general nuclear disarmament unrelated to other kinds of disarmament control is either too naive or too smart. Kennedy knows the Soviet Union cannot accept his proposal."

Yet it was Kennedy's disarmament proposals that attracted attention in India, a leader of the nonaligned nations. The Hindustan Times, a supporter of Prime Minister Nehru's Congress party, played up the President's appeal for a nuclear test ban treaty and his step-by-step disarmament plan.

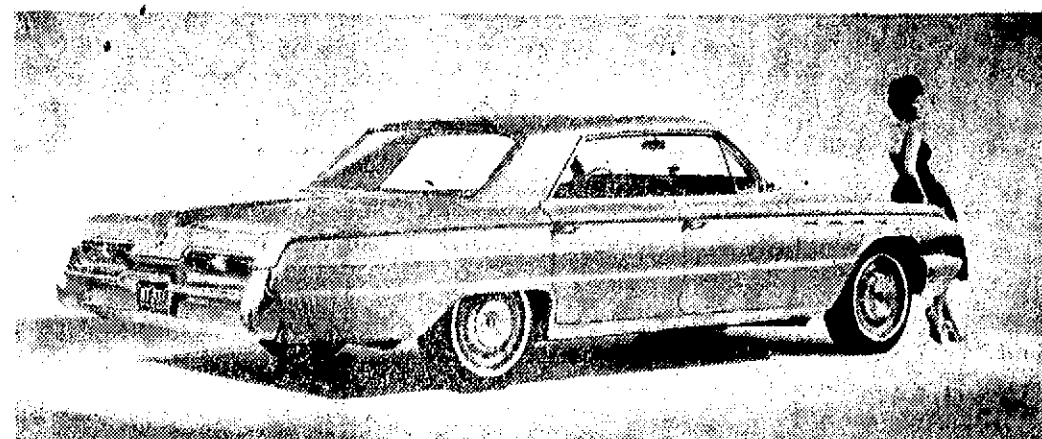

In Sweden, a neutral nation basically friendly to the West, Stockholm's liberal Dagens Nyheter said: "It was a speech written in small letters, a speech free from accusations and threats, a speech which, lacking every tone of aggressiveness, differed as radically as possible from what has been performed by Moscow recently."

The clean, uncluttered styling of Buick for 1962 is exemplified in the Electra 225 series with its sporty new roofline and its tailored rear decklid with the wind-split down the center. The long, sweeping lines of the front and rear fenders make the car look bigger without increasing its size. The new roofline with its wide, sloping rear pillars identify the Electra 225 series, one of the most luxurious cars in the fine car field. Passenger comfort has been improved for 1962 by the almost complete elimination of the transmission hump in the floor of the front passenger compartment. The Electra 225 is powered by a 401 cubic inch V-8 engine with four-barrel carburetor, coupled with Buick's smooth Turbine Drive transmission.

Cotton Crop Likely to Be Smaller

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Agriculture Department predicted today that this year's cotton crop will be four out of the previous five—will be smaller than demands for domestic and foreign markets.

A cotton situation report said that on the basis of the department's Sept. 11 production report, the cotton crop probably would fall 200,000 bales short of market requirements forecast at 14.5 million bales.

Thus, it appears that there will be reductions in carryover supplies of the nation's three major crops this year — wheat, feed grains and cotton. Production estimates indicate the wheat crop may be around 50 million bushels below total needs of around 1.26 billion bushels.

The feed grain crop may be about 5 million tons or about 75 million bushels below total feed grain needs of around 145 million tons.

But some cotton experts predict the cotton crop may run half a base this on reports that hurricane Carla reduced production prospects considerably in Texas and that there has been a downturn in the crop in some other areas because of unfavorable weather.

Cotton stocks are down to a point where most farm leaders agree they do not constitute a surplus—just an essential reserve.

The department report predicted they would be around 6.8 million bales a year from now. These stocks have gone down every year since 1956 with the exception of 1959. In 1956 they totaled 14,529,000 bales.

All but about 1.5 million bales of the present carryover stocks of 7 million bales is in commercial hands. The other is held by the government.

The report predicted that domestic markets will require about 8.75 million bales this season compared with 8.3 million last. Exports were projected at about 5.75 million bales compared with 6.6 million last season.

Lumber Truck Wreck Kills One

JONESBORO, Ark. (AP) — A loaded lumber truck fell eight feet into a dry ditch when a wooden bridge collapsed near Caraway Monday. One man was killed and three others injured.

Scene of the accident was a private road leading to a timber cutting operation.

Louis Smallwood, 33, of Lepanto was killed when the truck overturned and dumped its load of lumber on him.

Smallwood; Roman Showman, 52, of Russellville, Ala.; Jimmy Wyke, 25, of Ramer, Tenn.; and Andrew Addison, 48, of Lepanto were riding atop the lumber at the time of the accident author ities said.

Showman suffered a broken leg and Wyke and Addison received cuts and bruises.

The truck driver, Odell Dixon, 33, of Walnut, Miss., escaped in jury as did a passenger in the truck cab, John Kirkendall of Ramer.

Thirteen Arkansas counties are divided into two districts, each with its own courthouse.

Here tomorrow—a great new exclusive from Buick

ADVANCED THRUST

Moves power forward for arrow-straight going

It puts the engine ahead like the tip of an arrow • It tames "wind wander" and road sway • It sweeps you forward in a hush of luxury • It turns the floor hump into foot space.

WHAT IT IS—Buick's big new move: It positions the great new Wildcat V-8 and Turbine Drive way up front over Buick's front wheels.

WHAT IT DOES—As the engine went forward, the floor hump went DOWN. And, the forward weight makes wheel response far quicker, cornering far surer, ride far smoother.

WHY YOU'LL LOVE IT—It's the closest you can come to sports car handling in a passenger car. Distances shrink before its 3/4-G thrust. Hills disappear. Lean on curves is gone because the frame's gone wider. Winds don't make you wander.

It's going at its Buick best!

Miss Sherry Collins Becomes Bride
Of Carroll Messer

In the presence of immediate families and a few close friends Miss Sherry Ann Collins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Collins of Spring Hill, became the bride of Carroll Wesley Messer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Messer of this city, in the Collins home on Sunday, September 24.

The Rev. Carlton Roberts, pastor of the Rocky Mount Baptist Church, officiated at the double-ring ceremony on the 23rd wedding anniversary of the bride's parents. Vows were exchanged before an archway of greenery flanked by baskets of pink and white gladioli.

The bride was lovely in a street-length, white, brocaded faille frock with a white silk organza jacket and gathered overskirt. Long sleeves ended in lily points over the hands, and the high collar was lace-trimmed. A small white hat completed the bride's attire, and she carried a white Bible topped with white carnations.

Mrs. Harold Wright served her sister as matron of honor. She wore a dress of blue cotton with a white carnation corsage. The bridegroom chose his brother Bobby Messer, as best man.

A small reception was held following the wedding, when the guests were invited into the dining room. In a setting of white and orchid 'mums' they were served the wedding cake by Miss Linda Galloway and the punch by Miss Betty Smith.

Out-of-town guests included Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Messer and family and Miss Nita Messer, all of Oklahoma City, Okla., and Mr. and Mrs. Darrell Messer and family of Pine Bluff.

West Berlin Assured by Gen. Clay

By MICHAEL GOLDSMITH

BERLIN (AP)—West Berliners were told Sunday night that Gen. Lucius D. Clay had come as their defender with the same determination he showed in breaking the 1948-49 Communist blockade of the city.

The assurances came from West German President Heinrich Lübke to allay growing fear in West Germany that the United States is planning a possible deal with the Soviet Union.

Lübke chose the dedication of a new West Berlin opera house as a symbol of the city's future.

Mayor Willy Brandt of West Berlin commented bitterly: "We have lost some hopes but also some illusions."

By illusions the mayor meant the ability of many West Berliners to convince themselves that the concrete curtain thrown across the divided city by the Communists Aug. 13 was merely a temporary inconvenience.

British newspapers predicted a dramatic switch in U.S. policy toward Germany is shaping up despite the denials by Clay and Washington.

The Daily Mail described Clay's off-the-record remarks as a "calculated indiscretion." The paper's Washington correspondent, Bruce Rothwell, reported President Kennedy is about ready to grant de facto recognition to East Germany.

Rothwell said Kennedy is also believed prepared to recognize the Oder-Neisse line as East Germany's frontier, except East German checking on access routes to West Berlin and possibly agree to limit nuclear weapons in central Europe.

The flight of refugees continued, however. Twenty East Berliners succeeded in crossing the border Sunday.

to appeal to Germans to have faith in their Western partners. "We can really have confidence in the firmness of our Allies. Their promises have to be taken seriously in every respect. Gen. Clay has not come here to surrender Berlin, but to defend it as he did in 1948," Lübke said.

As President Kennedy's personal envoy to West Berlin, Clay told a private meeting of publishers and reporters last week that U.S. officials are informing West Germany it must face up to the existence of Communist East Germany and let the East Germans have some authority over access to Berlin.

West Berliners generally interpreted Clay's off-the-record remarks as removing all hope for the reunification of Germany in the foreseeable future.

Mayor Willy Brandt of West Berlin commented bitterly: "We have lost some hopes but also some illusions."

Her Children Were Not Invited

By HELEN WORDEN ERSKINE

Dear Helen: My husband and I are loyal readers and feel there are times when an outside opinion can help.

Recently, my mother-in-law invited us to a family luncheon in honor of my sister-in-law's parents who were returning to Europe. She requested that we leave our children, age 6 and 4, at home with a baby-sitter, despite the fact that other relatives were bringing their children.

My mother-in-law regards our youngsters as monsters. They are simply lively, normal, active children — neither angels nor devils. As it happened, we could not attend my mother-in-law's luncheon, since we were having guests ourselves. But, I resented her ultimatum and am deeply hurt that a grandmother should feel as she does toward her own flesh and blood.

My husband thinks I should forget the matter. I'm trying hard but resentment lingers. This is only one of many similar needlings. Perhaps you will give us an objective opinion — Burnett-to-a-Crisp.

Dear Burnett-to-a-Crisp: Somewhere you've stepped on your mother-in-law's toes and she's hitting back in the surest way she knows how — through your children.

See her rudeness for what it is: retaliation. Even were your youngsters infant demons they should not have been cladded from a family luncheon when other grand-children were admitted. Tit for tat isn't the answer.

Your husband is right. Erase the incident from your consciousness. Once your mother-in-law realizes she can no longer hurt you she'll stop trying. Prove your bigness of heart by inviting her and all the other in-laws, including their children, to a luncheon at your home. Show them how it should be done. Seat the children at one table and grownups at another. Give your youngsters a work out in the fundamentals of hospitality and, come hell and high water, insist they behave. Make it a game and they will.

Dear Helen: A GI recently wrote that decent girls shied away from soldiers. He wondered why. Tell him soldiers are too darned fresh. All the only GI I ever dated tried to do was neck. Granted not every GI is bad, but where do you find the good ones?

Congress Might End on Tuesday

By JOE MALL

WASHINGTON (AP)—Congress goes back to work today, hoping for adjournment by Tuesday night at the latest. The leaders were keeping their fingers crossed.

Still to be disposed of were three appropriations bills. If all goes smoothly, there is a chance Congress members still in town may be on their way home or starting jaunts as early as tonight.

Saturday was to have been the windup of the present session. Apparently, much of the House took the hope seriously and House leaders were wondering today if a quorum would show up.

These are three major items remaining:

1. The foreign aid bill—it has passed both branches, but awaits a final settlement in a Senate-House conference. The Senate voted $4,196,000,000 — $539 million more than the House. Reports persist that a behind-the-scenes agreement has been reached.
2. A public works measure carrying funds for rivers and harbors, flood control, reclamation and atomic energy projects — it also has cleared both branches, the Senate voting $3,940,026,000 and the House $3,662,701,300. Conference may meet today.
3. A final supplemental catch-all measure — The House voted $573,040,923, the Senate Appropriations Committee upped this to $1,060,894,578.

Plans to close down the 1961 session Saturday night collapsed when Republicans blocked Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield's plan to bring up the supplemental bill.

This measure had been approved Friday and under Senate rules had to lay over until Tuesday unless unanimous consent were given. Senate Republicans by Eisenhower and the three party chairmen, President Kennedy and his advisers have come to the conclusion they can expect hard-swinging attacks by the Republicans on foreign policy actions as well as on domestic programs.

Kennedy was reported by close associates as having been upset about Eisenhower's recent attack on his handling of international developments. Miller has been especially critical of the President's role in the Berlin crisis. Goldwater and Wilson have added to this chorus.

One Survivor in Turkey Crash

ANKARA, Turkey (AP)—One survivor was found Sunday in the wreckage of a twin-engine Turkish airliner that crashed in the mountains near Ankara Friday, killing 28 persons.

The survivor was identified as Solin Kalafatoglu, a Turkish back-country official. He was taken to a hospital in serious condition.

Among the dead was Bernard Havens, Rye, N.Y., a civil engineer with Socoy Mobil Oil Co.

Young Democrats Elect Officials

HUTCHINSON, Kan. (AP)—Gov. Orval E. Faubus of Arkansas reviewed a parade of national guardsmen, took part in a memorial service and spoke at a junior college Young Democrats meeting while attending the 38th Division Association meeting here Saturday. Ted Woods of Little Rock was elected a vice president of the group.

Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois said Sen. Winston L. Prouty R-Vt. had notified him objection would be made.

Prouty was not on hand to give his reasons. However, some Democratic senators fighting the Du Pont Co. tax bill thought it was involved.

This controversial measure was called up for Senate debate Saturday but had no chance of final passage unless Congress was forced into this week. It cleared the House last Tuesday.

The measure would ease the tax burden on Du Pont stockholders who might receive General Motors stock in an antitrust divestiture case. Under present law, stockholders who got GM stock would have to pay about $1 billion in income tax. The bill seeks to cut the payment to about $359 million.

This legislation pended as the Senate met today. Mansfield said he would put it aside from time to time for Senate-House conferences reports and other business including the supplemental money bill, the key to adjournment.

Will Expand Talking Probe Senator Says

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Senate study of charges that the Pentagon has kept military officers from speaking out against communism will be expanded to include the role of the military in alerting both the armed forces and the public about the menace of communism.
Sen. John C. Stennis, D-Miss., has been appointed chairman of the special Senate Armed Services Subcommittee to conduct the hearings.
He said he planned a three-way inquiry to look into:
—Charges by Sen. Strom Thurmond, D-S.C., that strong anti-communist remarks have been systematically censored in speeches by military officers.
—The type of courses used by the military to educate its officers and men on the dangers and meaning of communism.
—The role of military men in using seminars or other forums to alert the public about communism's menace.
Stennis said there was a possibility that Maj. Gen. Edwin A. Walker, reprimanded by the Army for the nature of his troop indoctrination program, may testify.
Walker, who was in charge of troops at Little Rock, Ark., during the 1957 integration crisis there, has asked for a chance to present his side of the case. He plans to fly here shortly from Germany.

A memorandum from Sen. J. William Fulbright, D-Ark., to the Defense Department on appearances of officers at political seminars has figured in some of the discussion over military political activities.
Thurmond has charged that indoctrination courses have been made too "namby pamby" and that obstacles have been tossed in the way of the proper alerting of the public.
Stennis, a former judge, said in a news conference he planned "a very serious and semi-judicial inquiry and study, conducted in an atmosphere of calm."
He added he does not want any "clash of wills" to divert attention from the job of getting full information and appraising whether policy changes may be needed. He said the inquiry might be broadened further as the hearings progress.
No date has been set for the hearing's opening.
Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara told the full Armed Services Committee Gen. Walker may have violated federal law by trying to influence the 1960 congressional election votes of his troops. The Army had not mentioned this when, last April, it reprimanded Walker and relieved him of his command in Germany after an investigation of charges that he had made derogatory remarks about former President Harry S. Truman and other noted Americans.

Sen. John G. Tower, R-Tex., made public a telegram from McNamara assuring him that Walker has never been ordered not to speak out in answer to McNamara's testimony that he may have violated election laws.
McNamara also said Walker has

Pressures for Invasion of Katanga

By DENNIS NEEDL

LEOPOLDVILLE, The Congo (AP)—Gen. Victor Lundula, commander of leftist military forces in Stanleyville, put pressure on the Congo central government today to invade Katanga.
Fears grew in Elisabethville, capital of the secessionist province, that fighting is about to break out again. Europeans began fleeing the city. A report from Ndola, Northern Rhodesia, said nearly 400 whites, mostly Belgians, had reached there from Katanga.
The campaign for an invasion of Katanga was being whipped up by supporters of the late Patrice Lumumba, who launched such an attack before he was overthrown as premier last September.
The Lumumbists have regained key positions in the central government with the reconciliation of Antoine Gizenga's rebel Stanleyville regime and the central government headed by Premier Cyrille Adoula.
Lundula has accepted Adoula's leadership but has kept command of strong leftist forces in Stanleyville. He sent a deputation of his officers here Sunday to step up the pressure on the premier for an invasion.
Lumumbist newspapers in Leopoldville said Adoula's leadership but has kept command of strong leftist forces in Stanleyville. He sent a deputation of his officers here Sunday to step up the pressure on the premier for an invasion.

9,176 Agri Jobs Filled

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—A total of 9,176 non agricultural jobs were filled last month, an eight-year record for job placements, the Employment Security Division said today.
The total was 21 per cent above job placements in July and 24 per cent higher than the figure for August of last year.
There are 36,018 miles of roads in the county road and highway systems of Arkansas.

Leopoldville said Lundula dispatched a telegram to Adoula saying: "I congratulate the chief of the Congolese government for his attitude to the Katanga problem. I place myself at the disposition of the republic and I am only waiting for the order to be given me to invade Katanga with my troops."
Adoula has declared his determination to end Katanga's secession—by force if necessary. The Adoula government has openly shown its displeasure with the cease-fire reached last week by the United Nations and President Moise Tshombe of Katanga.
U.N. headquarters called "utter nonsense" a claim by Tshombe that 36 Soviet Ilyushin transport planes are at Stanleyville airport ready to fly Congolese invasion troops to Katanga.
Top U.N. officials and Western diplomats here are trying to persuade Adoula not to try to end Katanga's secession by force.
A United Nations spokesman said any move to end Katanga's secession would be regarded as a police action and U.N. forces would not interfere.

Governors Shelve Civil Rights Issue

By GAVIN SCOTT

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — A threat to push the states rights-segregation issue to the forefront of the Southern Governors' Conference collapsed today as the chief executives of 15 states stuck to less controversial topics.

The moderates, led by conference chairman Price Daniel of Texas, said the subject of civil rights should not be brought up. Instead the governors, at the first business session of the four-day meeting took up mutual problems in education and atomic energy.

Tonight Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson addresses a dinner. Before the 27th annual conference began, there was talk Gov. Ross Barnett of Mississippi and several other governors would bring up a "Southern unity" plan developed at a meeting last July at Jackson, Miss.

But Barnett announced Sunday night that the matter would not come up, except in informal talks. He said a meeting would be held later at Montgomery, Ala., to continue discussions of forming a bloc to "defend" states rights.

Barnett, like most of the governors, shied away from comment on the segregation issue. Alabama's John Patterson was an exception.

He said the purpose of the "southern unity" movement is to plot a mutual defense against what he called the Kennedy administration's "South bailing."

Patterson, the first southern governor to endorse John Kennedy for President, told newsmen he hadn't had much time to look over the President's record because "I've had to spend too much time defending myself against suits brought by his brother (the attorney general)."

Two meetings Sunday preceded the official start of the conference. The Conference of Appalachian Governors, headed by Kentucky's Bert Combs, called for faster action in getting a redevelopment program started.

In a second meeting, eight southern states formally created the southern interstate Nuclear Board to plan for regional development of atomic industries.

Wed in Jail, Seek Child

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—A man and woman who met and married while in county jail want to get custody of the woman's child.

An attorney said Clyde J. Long and the former Nancy L. Arendt, who were married in jail last Oct. 4, have established a home and are seeking to prove that they deserve custody of the daughter born last February to the woman.

The state Welfare Department has custody of the girl now and has filed a petition to put her up for adoption. A hearing on this petition is scheduled next month.

Long completed sentences for forgery and parole violation Aug. 27 and now has a job in Little Rock, attorney Robert J. Brown said.

$31 Million for State in Works Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Senate-House compromise committee must work out differences in $3.9 billion public works money bills passed by the House and Senate.

The Senate cleared its bill Saturday. It would provide funds for flood control, navigation and reclamation projects in Arkansas and elsewhere over the nation.

The bill still is subject to final passage by both houses.

Arkansas would get $31 million for construction on three large reservoirs, $100,000 in planning funds for Arkansas River navigation locks and dams and $225,000 in planning money for a 9-foot navigation channel on the Ouachita River.

The measure provides $9.5 million for Beaver Reservoir, $9 million for Dardanelle Dam Reservoir and $12.5 million for Gies's Ferry Reservoir.

Another $125,000 in planning funds was provided for Ozark Lock and Dam on the Arkansas River and $55,000 in planning funds for Manatee Bayou in southern Arkansas.

Fifteen million dollars was provided for Arkansas River bank stabilization work. The bill 000 for the lower White River in Arkansas; $530,000 for the lower Arkansas River; $2.5 million for paring with figures at the same time last year.

construction of Red River levees for channel improvements.

The 1962 Lincoln Continental's classic styling is enhanced by a redesigned front bumper, new front grille and repositioned headlamps. Many customer conveniences have been added to the car. Engineering refinements provide greater reliability, smoother and quieter riding, and less need for car maintenance. Each Lincoln Continental undergoes a 12-mile road test. Two models of the luxury car are available this year. The four-door sedan is shown above. The four-door convertible has been improved in appearance to simulate the look of a sedan when the top is up.

Red Premier Gives Same Old Line

By STANLEY JOHNSON

MOSCOW (AP) — Premier Khrushchev said today the Soviet Union is ready to negotiate any time, any place to insure peace.

But he told Prime Minister Nehru of India, in a letter, the talks which the so-called non-aligned nations proposed between him and President Kennedy should be part of a wider scheme devoted to drawing up a German peace treaty.

The Soviet premier tied the below Denison Dam.

Army Engineer surveys on the Buffalo River and Water Valley Reservoir would receive $35,000 and $25,000, respectively.

Arkansas would get funds for flood control projects on the lower Mississippi River.

The program included $1.3 million for the Beauf and Tensas Rivers and $25,000 for Red River backwater in the Tensas Basin in Arkansas and Louisiana; $4,635,000 for work in the St. Francis Basin in Arkansas and Missouri; $550,000 for the lower White River in Arkansas; $530,000 for the lower Arkansas River; $2.5 million for paring with figures at the same time last year.

The Census Bureau reported last year.

When to Fish or Hunt Solunar Tables

By John Alden Knight

The schedule of Solunar period as printed below, has been taken from John Alden Knight's Solunar Tables. Plan your days so that you will be fishing in good territory or hunting in good cover during these times, if you wish to find the best sport that each day has to offer.

The Major periods are shown in bold face type. These begin at the time shown and last for an hour and a half or two hours thereafter. The minor periods, shown in regular type, are of somewhat shorter duration.

Khrushchev was replying to a letter the recent Belgrade, Yugoslavia, conference of 25 non-aligned nations sent him Sept. 5. It asked specifically for a meeting of the Soviet premier and the U.S. President. It was delivered here by Nehru and President Kwame Nkrumah of Ghana.

Khrushchev's letter, as reported by the Soviet news agency Tass, said "the threat of war has never perhaps been as great in the postwar period as it is now."

He blamed the Western powers who, he said, are "intensifying military preparations in every way." The Soviet Union, he said, has therefore been compelled to take measures to strengthen its security.

His answer to the plea for negotiations was the same as he gave in a speech here during Nehru's visit.

WE PROUDLY INVITE YOU TO SEE THE TIMELESS NEW
LINCOLN CONTINENTAL FOR 1962

In styling, in endurance, in value, the 1962 Lincoln Continental cannot be outdated by the calendar. Through all the years you drive it, the Continental will stay as contemporary as today.

The Lincoln Continental is not a car you pamper. Normally it requires service only twice a year. The entire body is protected from rust. The finish never needs waxing, only washing. Brakes work smoothly and last longer because their internal parts are chromium-plated.

In every way, the Continental is an investment that will retain its value for years. As a matter of fact, the 1961 Lincoln Continental has a higher resale value than any comparably priced 1961 American line car.*

We invite you to inspect this remarkable automobile in car showrooms on September 27. And while you're here, ask us about our unusual warranty.

Minister Restrained by Court

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The Arkansas Supreme Court today upheld a lower court's order restraining an Icard County minister from conducting services in a church.

Icard Chancellor P. S. Cunningham had ruled that the congregation of the Pleasant Ridge Missionary Baptist Church had legally dismissed the Rev. M. E. Ford as pastor and had voted to bar the services. The high court's decision was unanimous.

ducting services in the church. He also prohibited five members of the church from interfering with worship at the church.

The case involved a dispute within the church which at one time led to padlocking of the building. M. W. Yancey and other trustees of the church took the case to chancery court.

Troy Rush, one of the five members directed not to interfere, appealed, arguing that the chancery court had no ground to intervene.

Justice Jim Johnson rejected this contention in his Supreme Court opinion, citing an 1885 case in which the court had ruled that a church could not be padlocked.

Arkansas Wins Airforce Medal

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The Air Force Association awarded its Medal of Merit to Willard A. (Lefty) Hawkins of Little Rock Saturday for aiding the group's development. Hawkins is a lieutenant colonel in the Air Force Reserve.

The jury recommended that since the county pays one half the expenses of Municipal Court, in Hope, that the law be amended to make the election of Municipal Judge countywide.

The group also commended James H. Pilkinton and a Citizens' Committee for services to the panel and people of the county.

They recommended that the law be changed to require that County Judges execute bond to indemnify the county for any funds which they might misappropriate or cause to be misappropriated and pointed out this is in no way any reflection on the present County Judge.

In other action yesterday Judge Lyle Brown revoked the suspended sentence of Elvin R. Lamb, charged with grand larceny.

Hospital Board

Jackson was interested in returning to Arkansas.

The State Hospital job pays a maximum of $18,000 a year. Jackson makes $25,000 a year in Kansas.

Hendrix did not seem to feel the salary differential necessarily would keep Jackson from the job. "He is a young man (47) and we are on a program of moving forward at the State Hospital," Hendrix said.

"I think any professional man would rise to the challenge of being on the ground floor of a new institution."

A recent special legislative session appropriated more than $6 million for Hospital facilities construction.

Jackson, contacted in New York where he is attending a meeting, said he would be "interested in finishing a job I started years ago."

Jones was superintendent of a state hospital at Williamsburg, Va., when he was hired to head the Arkansas facility in 1956. He considered the job a homecoming. He was graduated from the University of Arkansas Medical School in 1928 and worked as a junior physician at the State Hospital in 1928-29 before going east.

Segregation Law Offered by Harris

WASHINGTON (AP) - A constitutional amendment to permit racial segregation by state law has been proposed by Rep. Oren Harris, D-Ark.

Harris said his action was prompted by new Interstate Commerce Commission regulations against segregation of bus travelers.

The proposed amendment, introduced Saturday, provides that "the right of any number of citizens voluntarily to segregate themselves from others for any lawful purpose as provided by state law shall not be denied."

If approved by Congress, the amendment would have to be ratified by legislatures of 38 states to become effective.

Arkansas farm owners have about $17,000 invested for each full time farm worker they employ.

Redlegs Could Nail Down the Flag Tonight

By JIM HACKLEMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

A wait of more than two decades may have dwindled into the final few hours for the Cincinnati Reds. Tonight could bring them their first National League pennant since 1940.

With the magic number at two, the race is at the wire. The Reds play the Cubs at Chicago this afternoon and the Los Angeles Dodgers are slated for a two-night doubleheader at Pittsburgh with last year's surprise flag winners, the Pirates.

Any combination of two—a Cincinnati win plus a Dodger defeat, or a pair of Dodger losses—would give the NL another lust-to-boom champion, and would send the Reds into the World Series against New York's home run-blasting Yankees.

Cincinnati was idle Monday night. The Dodgers and Pirates were rained out, setting up their two-nighter. In other NL games, the San Francisco Giants bombed the Philadelphia Phillies 10-2 with an 18-hit offensive and the Milwaukee Braves cut down the potential tying run at the plate in the ninth inning and edged the St. Louis Cardinals 2-1.

In the only American League action, Bob Shaw pitched eight no hit innings but was rapped in the ninth as Kansas City gained a split with Detroit, 6-3. The Tigers clinched second place by winning their sixth in a row in the double-header opener, 6-4.

The Giants' free-swinging assault against the Phils was spearheaded by Orlando Cepeda and rookie catcher John Orsino.

Cepeda, on a torrid batting streak had four hits and drove in four runs, boosting his league-leading RBI total to 140. Orsino batted twice and singled, while Willie Mays and Felipe Alou also contributed three hits each. Left-hander Mike McCormick (13-16) was tagged for 10 hits but won in a breeze. Don Farrar (5-11), batted out early, was the loser.

The Braves saved their narrow decision over the Cards by cutting down Ken Boyer when he tried to score on an almost-wild pitch by Don McMahon. Ray Washburn (0-1), in his first big league start, gave up a five-run homer to Hank Aaron and balked across the deciding run in the fourth. Milwaukee starter Carl Willey (6-12) collaborated on a five-hitter with McMahon.

Shaw (12-13) reached the ninth inning before his try for a no-hitter blew up. Dick McAuliffe led off the Tiger ninth and was safe on Dick Howser's wild throw, then Bubba Morton clipped the Kansas City right-hander for a solid single. An infield out, a sacrifice fly, Larry Osborne's homer and a single by Jake Wood followed before Frank House popped up for the last out.

A five-run burst in the eighth brought Detroit from behind in the opening game. Wood, pinch-batters Al Kaline and Vic Wertz, Bill Bruton and Morton knocked in the runs in the Tiger rally.

Porks Down to Hard Work for Tulsa

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP)—If Arkansas Coach Frank Broyles plans any major changes before he sends his Razorbacks against Tulsa Saturday, he's keeping them to himself at present.

Broyles declined comment on the matter Monday but said that the offensive and defensive grades from last Saturday's Arkansas-Ole Miss would not be announced.

"They just weren't good enough," Broyles said.

Tackle John Childress and halfback Paul Dudley will serve as co-captains for the Tulsa game. The Hogs were due to get a scouting report on Tulsa today from freshman coach Jack Davis.

The Razorbacks worked on some fundamental blocking and tackling Monday. Broyles said those were two of the weaknesses which showed up in the Arkansas-Ole Miss game.

Pass defense also got a going over in light of Tulsa's passing game.

The Hogs wound up their brief workout by viewing films of the Ole Miss game.

Commenting on the game, which the Rebels won 16-0, Broyles remarked, "We weren't going to forget that game, we're just going to start over."

Quarterback Billy Moore and halfback Darrell Williams, who missed the Ole Miss game because of injuries, appeared unlikely to see action against Tulsa.

Bobcats to Play Malvern Here Friday

By WICK TEMPLE
Associated Press Sports Writer

Springdale's galloping Bulldogs unscored on in four straight victories, take on question mark Van Buren Friday night in Region 1AA's game of the week.

Fayetteville, unbeaten in three outings but with two narrow escapes, meets weak defending champions Rogers. Russellville plays Harrison and Subiaco take on Big Nine Conference Fort Smith in non-league games.

Springdale bombed Harrison 20-0 last week in its first conference game while Fayetteville was beating Subiaco 7-0 on the fullbacking of George Coppage. Springdale ranks ninth in the state, Fayetteville 11th. Rogers lost to Class A Berryville 6-0 and Van Buren was idle.

Springdale halfback David Finch continued his groundwork last week, gaining 115 yards on 12 carries. He also threw a pass that set up a touchdown.

Fred Hogan's ground game is one of the reasons Jonesboro is a solid favorite in Region 2AA. The bruising fullback has rolled up 66 points on 11 touchdowns. He scored three in the 35-7 victory over Stuttgart last week.

Jonesboro gained 409 yards and held Stuttgart to 29. This week the Hurricane, unbeaten in four games, meets twice - bumped Newport. Forrest City takes on Helena and West Memphis faces Paragould in other conference games.

Stuttgart loser of two straight, takes on De Witt and Wynne plays Marianna in non-conference action.

Helena fell 21-13 to a good Tupelo, Miss., club last week while Paragould, West Memphis and Forrest City also were losing non-conference games. Newport beat Walnut Ridge 32-6 and Wynne whipped Parkin 40-12.

Benton's Panthers, top Class AA team in the state, open Region 3AA competition Friday night against fading defending champion Little Rock Catholic.

Benton has whipped two Big Nine teams, Little Rock Central and Hot Springs last week, 26-0. Catholic hasn't scored in losing three straight. The Rockets went down 13-0 to Malvern last week. Russellville upset Conway last week 14-0 to remain unbeaten and pose a threat to Jacksonville as darkhorse in the race.

Jacksonville, idle last week, takes on Conway in an important league game. Russellville visits Harrison in non-conference play. Malvern, which beat Bryant last week 7-6 for its first victory in four games, meets Class A Nashville this week. Morrilton is off.

Benton halfback Bobby Nix is already making a bid for all-state honors but he's being joined by quarterback Ted Wright and fullback Alvin Jones, who scored three touchdowns against Hot Springs.

Smackover's Buckaroos, who remain unbeaten with a 14-12 victory over unheralded Hope last week, take on winless Magnolia Friday in Region 4AA's game of the week.

Smackover and Camden are still the title favorites, and Camden swatted Fordyce 19-0 last week. Camden and Smackover don't meet until Nov. 17. Camden gets Arkadelphia in a non-league game this week.

Fullback Joe Black ran 12 and 19 yards for touchdowns and kicked both extra points to beat Hope. Hope's strong showing was sparked by halfback David Porter, field, who ran for one touchdown and carried 28 and 34 yards into Smackover territory, only to have the drives killed on fumbles.

Camden Fairview, loser of three straight, takes on Hooks, Tex., this week and Hope meets Malvern in a conference game.

Malvern is 3-0-1 after a 13-0 victory over Little Rock Catholic and Hope is 0-3. Malvern holds the darkhorse role behind likewise unbeaten Camden and Smackover.

Ruling Favorable to Paragould

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The Arkansas Supreme Court ruled today that the city of Paragould should recover $12,000 from the International Power Machinery Co. of Cleveland, Ohio, on a general deal.

The city sought $20,000 in a breach of warranty suit, contending the company represented this generator as a 1950 model when it was built in 1944.

Former Greene County Chancellor Lee Ward found for the company on grounds that the generator had a name plate saying it was made in 1944. Today's Supreme Court decision reversed Ward.

The city paid $40,000 for the generator, then spent $45,000 to have it rebuilt after its age was discovered.
